

An Easy Way to Publish Multiple Applications

Contributed by Joe Shonk
Sunday, 20 April 2008

Did you know that you can publish multiple applications to a single Citrix Presentation Server in one shot? Not using scripts, but within Citrix Access Management Console itself?

Interestingly enough, it is possible to publish multiple applications by simply highlighting the applications and dragging them to the server object. The only caveat, there is no way easy way to unpublish multiple applications from a server.

Click on the images for a better view.

1. Highlight the Server object that the applications will be published to.
2. From the second pane, selected Change Display
3. Select Published applications
4. The third pane now shows the list of application published to the server. In this example, there are no applications currently published to the server.
5. Select the Application Folder that contains the applications to be published. This will list the published application in the third pane. If not, select the Change display item in the second pane and choose Contents option.
6. In the third pane, select the items to publish. In this example I selected the top entry and while holding down the Shift key selected the last entry to select all of the applications listed.
7. While the applications are highlighted, drag-and-drop the items onto the server object.
8. Select the Server object again to and verify that the applications have been published to the server.